

Red Squirrels United Winter Newsletter

January 2019

Welcome to the winter 2019 email newsletter! There's so much happening across the Red Squirrels United partnership with Red Squirrel Appreciation Day later this month and plans for the Red Squirrels United Knowledge Fair coming together for March. If you have not yet booked your place, please do so as places are filling up fast!

If you go down to the woods today...

Have a read of the latest Red Squirrels United blog from Dr Craig Shuttleworth as he reflects on the legislative loopholes that can leave red squirrels and other flora and fauna vulnerable to habitat destruction.

Red Squirrels Appreciation Day

Monday 21 January is Red Squirrels Appreciation Day. Red Squirrels United is coordinating a Thunderclap at 6pm to get as many signatures as possible for the petition to amend the Forestry Act to protect red squirrels from habitat destruction. If you have Twitter please join us in tweeting 'Join the #redsquirrelappreciationday thunderclap on 21 Jan at 6pm and create a storm to protect #redsquirrels
